Questions:

1. PRIORITIES: What are your top three state legislative priorities and how would you address them?

A: I would like to be on the judiciary committee. I would like to look out for the peoples interest in developing the new marijuana laws. This has been abused for so long that there is some concern that special interest will override the peoples intent once the smoke clears. I have watched various committee hearings for the last year and have seen very little oversight of real judicial issues, most of it is minor adjustments to current law that goes past with unanimous vote with little attention from the public. I would like to see some scrutiny of things that seem to have become common practice in local government.

2. EDUCATION: What measures do you support/propose to achieve improved educational outcomes and accessibility for Michigan students from early childhood through post-secondary education?

A: I went to a major event arranged mainly by a political party regarding education that had panel discussion. There were cards passed out for questions and collected. Not one of them asked. Each issue had about 5 minutes of reasons of opinions of why things were good for us and 5 seconds of what was actually going to be done. We had panel members from a couple local businesses, 2 or 3 superintendents, a couple grant managers but not a single teacher or union representative. Same for a meeting on the opioids, not a doctor on the panel which appeared to be primarily focused on grant money.

3. ECONOMY: What policies do you support to increase jobs and help Michigan residents improve their economic positions?

A: I have been in both positions, employee and employer and have made lots of mistakes along the way. There is a lot of focus on training workers but employers could benefit as well. There is a trend to focus on workers thru privatization lately, how to save money with them while creating a administrator class that seems to grow at every turn. We now have several bosses with advanced degrees for few workers with very little transparency, workers are now "contractors" instead of public employees. We are getting grants to get more grants, to pay more people to get more grants, this will collapse.

4. ELECTIONS: What state policies do you support regarding campaign funding and voting rights?

A: The earlier we allow people to vote the better. There seems to be an argument that the young "don't have the experience" to cast a wise vote. I personally don't think they would do a lot worse than the rest of us. Many of the "issues" have simply become a way to divide up sides in a political game and misinformation and confusion seems to be the intent more than to truly inform. Campaign funding issues will not heal themselves until there is a movement to elect people who don't take the money. We now have a system that represents groups over what is good for most people, anyone that has been thru this knows.

5. ENVIRONMENT & ENERGY: What actions or policies do you support to protect Michigan's water, air and land for current and future generations, while meeting the state's energy needs? Explain how those actions or policies would affect the future of Enbridge Pipeline 5.

A: People want to drive 1 ton trucks to get groceries. There needs to be economic incentives to use less. If we want to conserve we should have tax credits for those without cars, for those with smaller bills. Its a problem when we are totally growth based on consumption. Line 5 is a perfect issue of politics gone astray. Lots of opinions on what is good for us from both sides and little to do with solutions. As a career welder I am suspect though, I have seen a lot rust from inside out. There are going to be more spills from old pipes, had one in our area recently and still not sure the cause was diagnosed correctly.

6. JUSTICE: What policies will you pursue to promote social and racial justice in our state?

A: There is very little recourse available to common people especially when the courts and local governments fail. Many are priced out of a remedy and it appears to be done intentionally. I would like to see the attorney general office focus on the welfare of citizens instead of being a defense for government. There is no complaint mechanism for people, none that isn't so complex that most give up. Most issues only get attention when they get caught in a spotlight and then become photo ops often prior to elections. Its difficult to be a passionate moderate, we have become the parties of extremes.

Occupation / Current Position: Economic consultant, author, and adjunct graduate school professor

Education: PhD - Research Field in Behavioral Economics;; MBA - Specializations in International Finance and International management;; BSci - International Economics;; AA - Business Administration

Qualifications / Experience: I've been an economic consultant for the last 16 years, and all the businesses, non-profits, and government agencies I helped succeeded. Politician clients ignored the research, so I'm here to get the job done right this time. In addition, I've been a small business owner, an Army soldier, an educator, and I'm at the cutting edge of economic research beneficial for proper policy development.

Questions:

1. PRIORITIES: What are your top three state legislative priorities and how would you address them?

A: 1) Improve the way decisions are made, emphasizing objective research and data-based policy. Obligatory research reports on policy outcomes and potential alternatives must be addressed and provided to the public prior to votes in legislature, and laws eliminating conflicts of interest be implemented. 2) Not just repair, but improve our state infrastructure using updated technologies to increase its economic potential and improve quality of life. 3) Comprehensive assessment of policies and operations to maximize efficiency, reduce waste, and decrease spending while improving programs rather than cutting them.

2. EDUCATION: What measures do you support/propose to achieve improved educational outcomes and accessibility for Michigan students from early childhood through post-secondary education?

A: 1) Stop draining public school resources to fund for-profit charter schools, and expand funding for schools. 2) Provide free or affordable before- and after-school classes students can choose so that working parents can ensure their kids are in a safe, constructive environment. 3) Include early childhood education as part of the standard public school programs. 4) Provide options for courses and environments for students to learn curriculum in a manner best suited to their learning style, interests, and aspirations for their own future. 5) Expand post-secondary education options for trade schools, apprenticeships, etc

3. ECONOMY: What policies do you support to increase jobs and help Michigan residents improve their economic positions?

A: 1) Provide guidance and financial assistance to entrepreneurs, small businesses, inventors, researchers, and other "new entrants" to the market in order to increase opportunities for growth while challenging existing businesses to provide better wages/benefits to compete for workers, and to become more innovative and efficient to compete for customers. 2) Support career-oriented skills education and expansion of infrastructure to give businesses the resources they need to thrive. 3) Increase operational efficiency of government operations to decrease spending while improving service offerings. 4) I could go on forever

4. ELECTIONS: What state policies do you support regarding campaign funding and voting rights?

A: 1) Apply the same conflict of interest laws to politicians that government employees are subject to (the implications of that are very broad in terms of campaign funding, in addition to other benefits politicians get from private interests). 2) Biometric voter registration in lieu of ID as proof of identity that reduces hurdles for low income individuals. 3) Eliminate gerrymandering 4) Increase the time period available to get signatures for voter initiatives to qualify for the ballot

5. ENVIRONMENT & ENERGY: What actions or policies do you support to protect Michigan's water, air and land for current and future generations, while meeting the state's energy needs? Explain how those actions or policies would affect the future of Enbridge Pipeline 5.

A: The price of oil is increasing quickly as we resort to more expensive methods to get at the stuff that's hard to reach. Natural gas has remained relatively stagnant but will also increase. By contrast, the costs of renewable energy are following typical technological price curves and are dropping in cost dramatically while increasing in efficiency. It makes economic sense to divest assets away from fossil fuels and allocate them to solar because that will generate the greatest returns on fiscal expenditures. Markets are already making Line 5 outdated and irrelevant, so it represents nothing more than risk cost.

6. JUSTICE: What policies will you pursue to promote social and racial justice in our state?

A: 1) Update law enforcement using modern techniques and methods (and eliminate civil asset forfeiture) 2) Comprehensive prison reform to make criminals positively-contributing members of society. 3) Assess complaints of unequal treatment/wages in the workplace using objective measures of productivity and qualifications. 4) Reverse the revisions to consumer protection laws implemented under Engler. 5) Expand and enforce equality under the rule of law 6) Provide incentives to use existing buildings in residential, commercial, and industrial districts rather than expanding outward to build new ones.
