

Voting is our power to shape our future as a community, as a state, and as a nation!

The League of Women Voters of the Lansing Area (LWVLA) offers this Voter Guide that includes biographical information about candidates and their answers to questions about current issues. In addition to candidate information, some local ballot proposals are listed. A separate publication from the League of Women Voters of Michigan includes candidates for congress and statewide election positions.

The information in this publication is printed as submitted by the candidates and edited only when the answers exceed the character limit. The League of Women Voters does not take responsibility for the views or facts as stated by the candidates. The words "Response not available." indicate that no reply was received from the candidate by the deadline. The names of the candidates for each office appear in alphabetical order. Only contested races and races where candidates responded appear in this guide. Other races, and later submissions to this guide, can be found at www.VOTE411.org.

The LWVLA is working tirelessly to provide voters with information they need with our online voting resource, www.VOTE411.org, and printed voters' guides which provide information about candidates and ballot proposals. You can even print out your sample ballot to take to the polls on www.VOTE411.org.

The League is a national organization, working for more than 100 years to encourage citizen participation. The League never supports or opposes any political party or candidate, but it does take a position on issues after careful study by the membership.

Special thanks to the City Pulse, Marilyn and Dale Fitschen, Marty and John Courtetas, Peckhman Industries, and the Michigan Civic Education Fund for their generous support in providing this guide. The League appreciates their commitment to democracy.

Election Day is November 5, 2024

➤ Absentee voter ballots available for voters September 26.

➤ Last day to register by mail or online October 21.

➤ New voter registrations required an in-person visit to your clerk’s office from October 22 - November 5.

➤ Early Voting period October 26 - November 3, but can be longer. Check with your local clerk.

Michigan has 2 Options to Vote Early

➤ At an early voting site prior to Election Day

➤ By using an absentee voter ballot prior to Election Day

Options for Straight Ticket or Split Ticket

Voters may “split” their ticket in the general election (November). Per the passage of Proposal 18-3 in 2018, Michigan voters also have the option to vote straight-ticket by selecting the option on the side of their ballot with partisan races. Voting straight ticket does not automatically include selections on the non-partisan side of the ballot.

How to get information?

➤ Michiganvoting.org in English, Spanish, or Arabic

➤ Michigan Voter Information Center mi.gov/vote

➤ Your local, township or county clerk’s office

WHO can vote? *

➤ A United States citizen

➤ A Michigan resident (at the time you register) and a resident of your city or township for at least 30 days (when you vote)

➤ At least 18 years of age (when you vote)

➤ Not currently serving a sentence in jail or prison

* To ensure accuracy, voting information has been copied with only minimal editing from the Michigan Secretary of State’s website.

What is Early Voting?

Early voting is the opportunity to cast a ballot in person at an early voting site before Election Day. For voters, the early voting experience will be similar to the experience of voting at a polling place on Election Day and will include feeding your completed ballot into a tabulator. To find your Early Voting Site go to Michigan.gov/vote and click on Early Voting or contact your local clerk.

What is Absentee Voting?

Absentee voting is the process of requesting a ballot from your city or township clerk, receiving and filling out the ballot, and then, returning the ballot to your city or township clerk, either in-person, in a secure ballot drop box or by mail. Be sure to follow the instructions and don’t forget to sign the return envelope.

You can also return your completed absentee ballot to an early voting site by checking in with election workers, then inserting your ballot into the tabulator.

Race: Michigan State House of Representatives – District 43

Duties: The Michigan House of Representatives shares responsibility with the Michigan Senate to enact new laws and amend or repeal existing laws. Qualifications: State Representatives may serve a maximum of three full terms. Michigan House District 43	Q: 1. Why are you running for the Michigan State Legislature?	Q: 2. What should Michigan do to provide an equitable, quality public education for all while addressing the current teacher shortage?	Q: 3. What do you see as the state’s role, if any, in mitigating the impact of climate change?	Q: 4. What actions/ proposals, if any, do you support to retain residents in our state?

Ed, BAA, 35+ years sales and business experience, Board Member of Allegan Homeless Solutions. Able to work with a wide range of personalities. Able to work through difficult or stressful situations	A: Because the needs of hard working people are not being met! We need legislators that prioritize public education and training, our environment, helping children and seniors, and protecting ALL rights, just for starters!	A: We need a taxing structure for public schools that does not solely depend upon the particular districts citizens income but instead distributes money evenly throughout the state, no matter the income of the community. At the same time, we need to figure out what to cut in order to give more salary and benefits to teachers. They are the highest educated people in our society, usually, and we pay them next to nothing. It’s time to recognize the valuable asset public school teachers are and pay them accordingly. I know pay isn’t everything, but many teachers I know have to work another job to make ends meet. Equitable pay would be a start.	A: States role is crucial in mitigating the impact. We are able to enact regulations and laws for those who choose to pollute and impact our climate in a negative way. State regulations are most likely the only way we can protect our Great Lakes, for instance. Look at Enron’s’ pipeline under the straights. We all know we will have to force them to encase the line for greater safety or threaten to shut them down before they will act, unfortunately. For so many businesses, money comes before the safety and well being of our citizenry. That is where the State HAS to come in.	A: It’s really about good paying jobs for people. Good schools for families. Good care (hospitals, daycares, senior facilities) for our loved ones. We have to maintain the essentials people need to live and thrive. Then people will come to Michigan or stay in Michigan.

Kara Hope Party: Democratic Biographical Info: DemocraticKARAOPE 32@GMAIL.COM facebook.com/Kara HopeHoltMI votekarahope.com Michigan House, representative (67th and 74th districts), former Ingham County Commissioner; attorney State Representative - Michigan KaraHope7State Representative -- 74th House District J.D. Cooley Law School; B.A. with honors Michigan State University	A: I am proud to have served this community for the past 12 years in elected office, first as a county commissioner and then as a state representative. As an elected official and an involved community member, I am in touch with what the residents of this district want and need. Among those wants and needs is the right to reproductive freedom as well as the desire for quality public schools and an opportunity for everyone to fulfill their potential. It is also essential to defend democracy and the rule of law, meaning adhering to the principle that we are all equal before the law.	A: Equitable funding means that funding should be needs-based, not just numbers-based. During the 102nd Legislature (the current legislature), we have prioritized and followed through on exactly that. We also fully funded special education for the first time in Michigan history. Providing free breakfast and lunch for all K-12 students in public schools ensure that every child has the opportunity to learn without being distracted by hunger. Regarding the teacher shortage, teacher apprenticeships (earlier than student teaching) could help along with tuition assistance to encourage young people to go into teaching as a profession.	A: The state has a huge role in mitigating the effects of climate change. The clean energy package passed by this legislature is a tremendous first step. And the state remains a good steward of our Great Lakes and fresh water supply. These functions must be at the state level and not subject to parochial demands.	A: Free college conditioned on remaining in the state for a set period of time following graduation would be a good place to start. Continuing to invest in and support the policies that most people want and need -- like reproductive freedom, environmental protections, and LGBTQ+ rights -- is a great way to attract and retain residents. Continuing to make Michigan a more attractive place to live, particularly for young people, is paramount. That means more investment in public transit and quality, affordable housing.

I am a former small business owner, attorney, and victim’s advocate.	A: I am running to continue my work in the legislature. Over the past year and a half, I have worked with partners to make Michigan one of the top states in voter access and Democracy. I am currently working on bills to address PFA’s in household products and remediate the harmful effects of PFA’s on our citizens. As an IVF mom, I will continue to be an outspoken advocate for reproductive rights. I am also working to increase access to healthcare for working families. I want to ensure that my district is well served and that our voices are heard.	A: Funding, funding, funding. We need to prioritize education in our budget, support teachers and school employees, and ensure that students are receiving the opportunities they need most. By providing good benefits, working conditions, competitive pay and retirement benefits, along with incentive programs for student teachers we can begin to address the teacher shortage.	A: The state has an important role to play in mitigating the impact of climate change and we must continue to take steps in the right direction. By investing in solar, wind, and other clean energy sources we can move the state forward and set a nationwide standard. Investments in EV infrastructure and public transit will also go a long way in helping us meet our goals.	A: We will retain residents and grow our population by being the very best place to live, work and raise a family. This means good healthcare, child care, jobs, quality educational opportunities, housing, transportation, public safety, equity, and an overall positive sense of community and recreational opportunities. I support investments in all of these areas. Michigan is a beautiful place and if we give our residents what they need we have a lot to offer. Much work is already being done to address each of these areas of interest by myself and my fellow representatives.

In the time I have been there I have had the opportunity to increase funding to education, protect healthcare, produce thousands of jobs and a balanced budget.	A: We must allocate resources based on student needs and ensure that all schools receive adequate financial support. This includes increasing funding for schools in low-income communities, providing more resources for special education, and investing in early childhood education programs. Equitable funding will help level the playing field and ensure that all students have access to quality education, regardless of their socioeconomic background. Among other things, I have worked with the House of Representatives to provide a $280 million increase in per-pupil funding in last years budget.	A: Michigan has the honor of hosting 1/3 of the world's fresh water. The state must be vigilant in protecting the Great Lakes and the thousands of inland lakes and rivers. We can and have made policies that support and fund this.	A: Business relies on residents/workers. Workers demand a vibrant community and vibrant communities need business. This is a circle of support to keep residents. Our state should be supporting our businesses to increase job - which we have since I have been here. Nicole Fickes Party: Republican Biographical Info: Campaign Web Site: vote4nicole.com Education: B.S., M.S., Mechanical Engineering Campaign Phone: 517.899.9307	A: I have dedicated 10 years to serving the people of Victor Township. Leading broadband efforts, I helped secure nearly $15 million in grant funds to expand Internet to over 3200 locations in Clinton County. As a medical device design engineer and product manager, I worked with top doctors and hospitals across the nation, as well as international production facilities. It is important to clearly map directions that address needs effectively, efficiently, and for the least cost. I understand how things work and am uniquely suited to listen to constituents and elevate issues. As a mother of three, Girl Scout leader, and involved community member with professional experience, I have an unmatched work ethic, technical expertise and am driven to serve the best interests of the people. And hopefully, with your help, can transform problems into opportunities for our residents.	A: Yes. It is critical to address contamination. The quality of our water is threatened by forever chemicals such as PFAS. Additionally, potential risks that may come from renewable energy and industrial battery storage facilities should be monitored. Residents should be protected from harm and liability by using data and evidence to respond appropriately. Governance and infrastructure should include fail-safes, proper mitigation planning, and adequate reserve funds for associated costs. Proposed expansion of solid waste facilities needs to have plans for potential disturbances from hazardous waste and should be discouraged.	A: 1) The Board of Commissioners continually faces new issues. I want to serve with integrity and a skillset that adds value to the responsibility of responding to each challenge. Broadband continues to be an issue across rural areas. Funding has been secured for a large portion in need. However, a stronger project management approach is necessary for the successful implementation of these funds. 2) Emergency services face rising costs and workforce shortages. Very few people are pursuing these careers. Rural communities suffer from small population densities and large distances, adding to the growing burden on tax payers. It is time to rethink how we structure, fund, and operate EMS, fire, and police. Partnering with smaller communities to combine resources is necessary to sustain these rural services. 3) Industrial battery storage facilities introduce new risks for safely managing locations. Fire authorities need training, equipment, and resources to address spontaneous combustion.

Anne Hill Party: Republican Biographical Info: Education: Executive Master's Business Administration and Business Admin, B.A.-Northwood University	A: As a former Clinton County Commissioner, I recognize the responsibility of the commissioner is to represent the people of their district in matters relating to county government. My prior experience as small business owner combined with a finance background working with large and international manufacturers, allows for a broadened perspective on the needs and impacts of budgetary decisions. My goal is to strike a balance between the amount of taxpayer money spent and the benefit to the community.	A: High priority issues include increased crime and drug use in the county, and the safety of our residents. It also includes the wide-spread impact of high inflation rates that the people of Clinton County are dealing with. A comprehensive plan with input from our residents and taxpayers will determine the specific actions.	A: Local property owner rights appear to be in jeopardy by State and federal government officials and their staff, who are willing to accept incentives from corporate billionaires and foreign governments. Pros and cons for each issue should be determined by the local residents, as every decision has benefits and risks. For example, windmills can be a viable source of energy, but the materials they are made of are also non-biodegradable. Electric vehicles can be a contributing energy option, but the lithium-ion batteries, which are also non-biodegradable, can be toxic. Additionally, the raw materials for the lithium batteries come from a foreign country, which could present national security issues.	A: I think the role of the county health department should take into consideration pre- and post-COVID-19, in order to truly evaluate needs moving forward. There are a lot of lessons to be learned from the past four years, and as information becomes available that should inform decision making.

LWVMI Board of Canvassers Observers

Since November 2020, LWVMI has been the public’s eyes and ears to Michigan’s county canvass of voters cast during an election. The League’s consistent observation during the canvassing let the Board of Canvassers know we are monitoring them. Our presence demonstrates to the County Clerks, the Director of Elections, their staff, and the canvassers that we support good governance. More importantly, should the canvass observation expose suspicious activities (i.e., anything other than ministerial and non-discretionary duties), LWVMI can elevate the issue to the Secretary of State’s office or an election attorney. The LWV Lansing Area observes Clinton, Eaton, and Ingham Boards of Canvassers.

Dwight J. Washington Party: Democratic Biographical Info: Education: PhD	A: As a Democrat elected public official (2016), a water policy and natural resource consultant, and an interpersonal / social skills instructor, County Commissioner Dwight Washington is driven to facilitate subjective well-being and improving quality of life. Dr. Washington holds a B.A., in Psychology from Michigan State university (MSU), a M.Ed., in Human Development and Psychology from Harvard University Graduate School of Education, and a Ph.D., in Natural Resources from Michigan State University. And, particularly in the recent passing of his parents, he is grateful for having been raised by a loving family and in a supportive Bath- Dewitt Township community to be a creative “out of the box” problem solver. Dwight is happily, living his Democrat values and belief that when everyone’s voice is valued and recognized is when we have a true democracy.	A: Clinton County has historically been a fiscally responsible organization, and is well positioned in relationship to other counties with our fund balances. This conservative policy has provided the operational flexibility to fix problems in a timely manner. Maintaining this “operational flexibility” through a strong sustainable budget is critical, as the county’s population grows significantly and approaches one-hundred thousand people. This growth and population change brings cultural and political changes. And, already, after the 2024 primary, we know that three of the seven incumbent commissioners will not be serving this next term. This change in leadership, in addition to retirements from County staff leadership positions poses new dynamics. The outcome of these processes will impact critical decision making around issues of solar energy, staffing, housing, food security, and other local services that impact or daily quality of life.	A: Dwight’s commitment to the environment began while growing up on his grandparents farm in Bath Township, Michigan. From those long-gone by days, the environmental challenges to the planet and Bath have significantly changed. And, Climate Change is a global reality that affects the Mid-Michigan region. Additionally, water quality issues (i.e.,Septic systems and PFAS), land use issues (i.e., Solar and Renewable Energy sites, road and development), as well other issues compete for agricultural land use. The wise use of land is imperative to get figured out, particularly, as a “housing crisis” does and should compel local leaders to earnestly search for sustainable resolutions. Dwight’s involvement on the Tri-County Regional Planning Board, Parks and Greenways, and the Clinton Board of Commissioners has and will continue to protect the people and the rural landscape from unsustainable policy, increase emerging “green technologies” when appropriate.	A: Dwight has been most impressed with how our Local Public Health Department performed during the COVID-19 pandemic, and how they have redoubled down in their obligation to providing the “10 essential health services for Public Health.” However, with regards to change, the new Health Officer, who was appointed during the pandemic, has brought a wealth of experience to the job. And, through her background in Environmental Health - the Mid-Michigan Public Health Department has increased their vigilance and have improved the quality of health through our “environment” in Clinton County.

It was announced earlier this year that the water was no longer safe to drink and then...nothing. No updates about subsequent tests, replacing the pipes or anything. How exactly can a hospital have unpotable water and nothing is being done about it?	A: I think the residents needs to be made aware that the county is in dire financial straits. The issue was mentioned in a recent edition of The County Journal, but the headline was about a “tax issue”—not something that would attract the average reader’s eye, unless they were already aware that the financial problems were due to taxes.

As an eighth-generation Eaton County resident, a proud graduate of Grand Ledge Public Schools, and an active community member, I will always be present to listen to and address residents’ concerns. I see so much potential in Eaton County. Yet, our commission has caused budget shortfalls through their inaction. I am running for county commission to fix these issues and to bring my experience to build a stronger future in Eaton County. I am a Master of Public Policy graduate- studying local government policy. I also regularly attend township and county board meetings because I recognize the importance of being prepared to start serving the community once elected. With experience as a nonpartisan nonprofit leader, I will work with anybody to accomplish positive results. With bipartisan support, I will represent everyone -- building a stronger future in Eaton County.	A: There are several priorities the board is immediately facing. For one, the county must pay staff a fair wage for their hard work to retain employees and recruit for open positions. Without their dedication, the county would not be able to operate. As a commissioner, I would advocate to increase pay for public safety and other staff to a fair rate. However, the county has unfunded budget constraints. Due to past board actions, the county has continuously headed down a dangerous financial path. Residents are now left with the bill or drastically reduced services. We must elect commissioners to address the financial uncertainty without leaving residents with massive tax increases. We must set the county on a stable footing to ensure programs and services can be maintained and expanded.	A: Two local environmental concerns catch my attention: increased precipitation caused by climate change and industrial pollution. First, Eaton County is predominantly swampland. Excess water has recently increased the amount of flooding in roadways and fields, leading to inaccessible routes, flooded basements, and crop loss. With more water expected every year, Eaton County needs to consider updating drainage systems that can handle increased capacity. Secondly, Eaton County has historically had pollution concerns. Oneida Township has an EPA Superfund site on the National Priorities List still being monitored. There is also PFAS contamination in the groundwater in multiple locations across the county. While some issues are already mitigated, they continue to have lasting effects on health, and the board should be proactive in preventing environmental pollution to protect our health.	A: The goal of the County Health Department should be simple: to best protect and improve the health of the people in the county by ensuring health education, services and programs, and an overall healthy community. The county health department should not be involved in politics, and commissioners should leave health policy to the experts. The health department should lead the county with available scientific research to guide our work via best practices to ensure a healthy future. The Board of Commissioners should uplift the vital work of the County Health Department and ensure they have the resources needed to do their job.

In those past 20 years I have held positions ranging from volunteer and intern to Legislative Director and County Commissioner. All of which have been in service to my constituents and have given me a comprehensive understanding of the unique challenges that face my community. I have a strong desire to see my community grow, succeed, and be a place where people want to live and work.	A: The number one priority issue Eaton County faces today is with the County Budget. Eaton County has not adjusted its millage rate since it was set back in the 1970s. If nothing changes in the way of gathering new revenue, Eaton County will be facing a 23.4 million dollar shortfall in a matter of 2 years. This will affect all non-constitutionally mandated services including public safety. That is why my colleagues and I have voted to create a Advisory Tax Limitation Committee which has recommended a 3 mill increase. I support this initiative.	A: As a whole, I believe PFAS contamination is an environmental issue that is impacting every corner of the state. Eaton County is an active participant with the Tri County Planning Commission which is heavily involved with the local Ground Water Management Board (GWMB). Expanding and continuing testing is needed for understanding PFAS contamination to the fullest extent. Eaton County and the GWMB will continue to educate the public and should hold those responsible for the contamination cleanup.	A: The County Health Department has an expansive and important role in our society. Day to day operations include but are not limited to educating and promoting healthy lifestyles, providing nutrition assistance, providing immunizations, and inspecting for food safety. It is also the duty of the Health Department to introduce and implement effective policies in community wide health emergencies.

A: I have been the County Commissioner for District 5, Delta Township as of this year a total of 14 years. My first time in office was January 2005 to Dec 2010, then January 2017 to present. I have a teaching degree from WMU, a past Director of the Kids Repair Program retired in 2023 after 11.5 years of their grant writer, coordinator of events and summer bike camp programs. I have served also in several community human services agencies executive boards through my time as a county commissioner. Up to now I have 100% attendance in all the years of all full Board meetings and have a total of 10 years of service on the county Ways & Means committee and 14 years on the Health and Human Services committee.	A: The staffing of the rural road patrol and that involves the entire allocations of the total budget. There is a definite labor shortage in various fields, and state wide at all level for police. But that does not leave out also the prosecutors and public defender offices under the umbrella of public safety. Delta Township did pass a public safety 1 mill increase in November 2022, part of that public safety millage is to go to a more costly contract to cover the deputies assigned to Delta Twp under contract. The Board currently is looking at a possible Countywide operating millage since the Board has been only able to provide a 2% raise to deputies so it's hard to recruit and retain. The entire state and many police departments in the US are in need of police. The entire staffing levels in all departments need to be reviewed going forward to ensure all departments are staffing at correct levels. Each and every aspect of each department.	A: Of the many environmental issues facing our world, which do you think are most urgent locally? How do you see county government helping to solve them? I believe protecting our water supply and watersheds is of utmost important. This means our many lakes, streams and Great Lakes. Barry-Eaton Health Department is involved in this aspect through the Environmental Department. The County contracts with them to water test the water we swim in at the County Parks plus tests waters in the streams and works with the Conservation district on the protection of our watersheds when needed such as the oil spill that happened in the Battle Creek river and connecting streams. At the County to help with climate change the County has installed electric charging stations and have roof top solar panels on various county building in the complex including the courthouse with a free standing set of panels that provide electricity to the 911/Tech building.	A: The County operates as a “shared” health district with Barry County. It's the Barry-Eaton District Health Department. My first time in office, I served 6 years on the Board of Health. The health department offers preventive services such as hearing tests for children, immunizations, food inspections at special events open to the public, restaurant inspections, monitors outbreaks of serious diseases such as STDs, food born illnesses, anything to do with public health as a whole.

I believe local governments can and should contribute positively to the quality of life of those who pay for it. Transparency and good stewardship of resources is my priority. We are elected to return results.	A: 1. A long term fix for our a structural deficit in the county budget. This is especially important for public safety. Hopefully the voters will approve an operating millage to increase revenue. 2. Attracting and retaining employees. I think better communication and interaction with the public would help demonstrate Eaton County's excellent operation, programs and services. People want a workplace that is successful and well run. We need to pay higher wages, which requires additional operating revenue.	A: At the county level, our infrastructure of old drains in rural and suburban settings needs to be repaired and replaced - the same with keeping the public water supply safe. We need to educate residents about how our public systems work and how their actions can contribute to long term sustainability. We need better recycling programs.	A: Prevention of disease and promoting good health.

I have been on the Delta Planning Commission since 2009 and have been on the Eaton County Board of Commissioners since 2021 (two terms). I had a 34-year career as a skilled tradesman at General Motors retiring in 2006. This year I will be a 50-year member of the UAW. I do enjoy my time on the Delta Township Planning Commission and its positive things we work on for the betterment of the community. It gives a certain vibrancy of activity and a healthy environment. I was elected to the Eaton County Board of Commissioners in 2020 and sworn in under the COVID-19 pandemic. It was a little rough working and learning with my contact being vis Zoom meetings. We and I prevailed through our determination and perseverance. Before my election to the Board, I spent time on the Eaton County Board of Canvassers. This gave me great training and respect for the election process and the Clerks in charge.	A: When elected I was thrown into many budget situations. This is not always an enjoyable pastime. I guess I was more into building things than to pay for them. Coming to grips of our County’s financial shortfall will be our challenging effort. I see no alternative than to go to the voters for added funding. The financial situation added to maintaining and sustaining a viable county workforce is imperative. This really is essential when talking about Public Safety along with the Sheriff’s Department and the County Courts. The manpower issues are a national issue. Things have been built on a “Baby-Boomer” scale; now the Boomers are retiring, and the next generations are not filling in the career gaps. We spend a lot of time and effort recruiting for good people. Our community needs the best.	A: Michigan, being a state surrounded by water, needs our utmost attention combating pollution. Since the Clean Water Act of the 70s we have enjoyed our beautiful lakes whether they are the Great ones or the smaller interior lakes and streams. I believe in clean energy and am a proponent of solar and wind power. I have had solar panels on my home since the 1980s. They have paid for themselves many times over. I keep an active eye open for affordable improvements and upgrades. Our family has had three electric vehicles, and I’m converting my maintenance equipment at home to electrically powered. The solar panels that we installed at the County Government facility was an outstanding was of using Federal Grant money. In the least we are saving on our electric utility cost burden. The County will continue to work on and solve problems as they arrive.	A: The County Health Department is constantly working to safeguard our public health. This is especially true of the lower income and financially challenged County citizens. Everyone doesn’t have a personal primary care doctor. I’m on the Health and Human Services Committee and we get monthly updates and progress reports. I just want to say how dedicated the staff is over there at the Health Department. They are a caring and empathetic group. I believe their sympathy reflects on Eaton County as a whole. We take care of each other. The addition of the dental clinic was a great move years ago because dental health determines overall health. I have always thought that the County Health Department has to be in a leadership position as an asset of first contact with the public. Citizens need that known security for help.

I have served many years as an election inspector and served on the Clare County Board of Canvassers. I have managed county leadership programs and directed the Clare County Enterprise Community Program. I wish to apply these experiences serving as an Eaton County Commissioner.	A: Having just recently moved back into Eaton County, I feel I am not knowledgeable enough to adequately answer this question. However, if elected to the county commission, I will utilize my past elected official experience, civil program management experience, science and educational knowledge and community -transparent communications to solve these County problems.	A: Two environmental issues facing the county commission today, are water quality safeguards for the manufacturing of EV batteries and the air-noise and sound quality concerns and the efficient use of agriculture land for solar and wind power generation in Eaton County. I would utilize my township and county planning experience as well as utilizing the best scientific technology evidence available to solve these problems. Decisions are difficult to make even in the best of situations. I believe I can contribute and bring a different prospective to the issues our county is currently facing.	A: Eaton County, not unlike other counties and municipalities, is facing heavy financial deficits and consistently high rates of employee turnover. This perfect storm has caused vacant positions that have now become safety issues. Every government office, board, and all stakeholders must make every effort to come together to stabilize the current services and protect the community. Budget decisions are difficult, but if all concerned, including the community members, are participants, and there is transparency, finalized decisions may be more palatable for everyone involved. We are in an absolutely “must prioritize” situation.	A: Living in a rural area, I believe keeping our water clean is important. Monitoring and educating those businesses that might be prone to mishaps on preventative pollution processes is imperative. Holding violators accountable. Continue funding projects at the highest levels that’s sole purpose is to educate about pollution control and prevention. Educating everyone, young and old, of the limited time we have to make lifestyle changes that can help preserve our environment. We all need to do our part.	A: Because we just weathered an historic event with COVID-19 (not yet over), the Health Department should be the hub of any community. The health department should be consistently updating, distributing, and informing the public with information that will help keep the community safe and informed. Current and new services should be advertised widely and readily available. Information should be factual, and all processes should be transparent. Being present (literally) in those communities which are usually the ones most affected should be a priority. The health and safety of the community is in their hands.

I served as the Director of Planning and Neighborhood Development for the citizens of Lansing, directing the work of six divisions and 150 staff in the final years of my city career. I am proud to have worked to Keep GM and hundreds of other projects that help maintain and grow our region. Then while serving as the Assoc. Director for the City Rescue Mission of Lansing I was able to establish a state approved substance abuse program and remodel a former school into a shelter for Women and Children. All the while, I have served with my church family to enrich our community. I am not done serving! My mandate is from Phil. 2:3-4 and my desire is to continue to serve my county neighbors with Experience that Matters!	A: The County is facing budget constraints that have drastically affected existing staff, competitive hiring of qualified personnel and capital improvements to the County facilities. It is anticipated that the voters will be deciding on a millage increase that will support the County services provided and the facilities that support these services. Regardless of the available funds for the near future, priorities and programming will need to be established with as much public input and consensus as possible. Facilities will need to be maintained and safe to support these services. As a commissioner, I would seek budgetary consensus, search out cooperative/ shared funding to maximize expenditure effectiveness and seek to grow the tax base with appropriate growth while protecting our resources. My experience with budgets, capital improvement programs, contract negotiations, and multi-agency, economic development will be an asset to the County.	A: The County needs to keep clean water as the highest environmental priority. Safe ground water is essential for all of life and our way of life. Continuing and advancing educational programs to help county residents, including children, understand the importance of protecting our water resources should be the priority. A companion to education is providing more and convenient opportunities to dispose of household hazardous materials. Presently, Eaton County partners with Barry County providing a few opportunities that may be considered inconvenient by the average household and may be improved and expanded. Land use and storm water runoff controls along with monitoring need to be reviewed and quantified to help protect this essential resource for future generations. My experience in land use planning and development, including environmental impact statements, will be an asset to the oversight and policy roles of a commissioner. I look forward to keeping Eaton Co. safe for our future.	A: According to the Michigan Public Health Code, the County is obligated to “support immunizations, infectious disease control, sexually transmitted disease control and prevention, hearing screening, vision services, food protection, public water supply, private groundwater supply, and on-site sewage management” and work in collaboration with Michigan departments of agriculture and environmental quality due to the shared funding with the state. Barry and Eaton counties have a shared agency to meet these obligations within both counties. The hearing and vision obligations are focused primarily on young children. The immunization obligations extend to all age groups for disease prevention and control. Licensing, permitting and inspection obligations with regard to commercial food preparation and handling; sewage disposal systems; and public water and private water supplies have a direct effect on everyone in the county.

As a proud Dimondale resident for over 20 years, I cherish the small-town charm that makes Eaton County special. As your commissioner, I have successfully lowered costs for residents, supported our first responders, secured record funding for local parks, and assisted fixed-income senior citizens. My experience also includes serving as a Trustee in the Village of Dimondale from 2020-2022. Currently, I work as a legislative director in the Michigan House of Representatives, where I tackle the everyday issues faced by Michiganders. I am dedicated to continuing this work and making a positive impact on our community by taking a bipartisan approach to pass common-sense policies that will benefit families and businesses.	A: The main issues facing the Eaton County Board of Commissioners include public safety, affordable high-speed internet, and sustainable budgets. If re-elected, I will continue to enhance public safety by investing in resources for first responders and supporting the development of a new e-unit to restore 24/7 road patrol and train certain deputies as paramedics. Additionally, I will advocate for infrastructure projects to ensure every home in Eaton County has access to affordable high-speed internet. In today’s world if you can’t connect, you just can’t compete! Finally, Eaton County needs commissioners who have a deep understanding of local government finances and expenses. Over the past 4 years, I have passed balanced and responsible budgets.	A: Eaton County has ten county parks (825 acres of land) that residents and non-residents alike enjoy every day. We need to protect our local parks from pollution and degradation. Eaton County parks provide an irreplaceable gathering place for families, clubs, and individuals wishing to enjoy Michigan’s natural beauty or connect with other community members. Well-maintained parks are also proven to help with economic growth, public health, and increasing property values. I understand the importance of environmental health and will work to properly fund the protection and maintenance of our large parks system so generations to come can enjoy them!	A: The County Health Department should work to identify, inform, and respond to any public health concerns based on data from local professionals and national resources.

The county has been aware of our current budget cliff for more than a decade! This is likely going to mean higher taxes for our residents. However, our families are struggling too! Why are we left to clean up the mess? We need commissioners that are transparent and are willing to give the bad news and offer solutions before it becomes a huge issue. As a Planning Commissioner for the city of Charlotte, Camp Frances Board of Directors member, and a member of the Master Plan Steering Committee, I bring the experience necessary.	A: The biggest issue for the county is the projected $1.3 million shortfall. The county needs to see if there's any ways to increase efficiency or if there's any cuts that could be made that are not critical to the counties public safety and needs before we simply sign off on millages. The sheriffs office has been understaffed and relying on overtime for years and now their overtime is cut back. We need to find ways to attract police officers and keep them in our county. I also think that many of our parks need more attention. There's rust & graffiti. They are not as safe as they could be for our children. Parks promote healthy citizens & increase property values. We need more maintenance for our parks, more handicap accessible park equipment and more trash cans to help with upkeep. I think that our county could benefit from more sidewalks and skywalks in certain areas as well to create more accessible and safe walking for our residents.	A: I think that key environmental issues that Eaton county residents face are air pollution and plastic pollution. The county can start working on these issues by educating the public. The county could partner with the "It All Adds Up To Cleaner Air" campaign. To help with plastic pollution, the county could look into plastic bag fees & restricting the use of plastic straws. Water refill stations in our county would cut back the use of plastic bottles.	A: The County Health Department is responsible for providing health education, environmental health services, personal health services and in conducting inspections. The department works to improve sanitation and hygiene, limit exposure to disease vectors, and support policies that reduce environmental hazards. The department conducts investigations if there is an infectious outbreak. They collect data and work to prevent the spread of disease.

Afterward I joined the US Army where I served for 30 years. While serving I attended Michigan State University. During my time serving I worked with and led teams of people and groups from all across the country that had different experiences and ideas then I had. When in these situations I was able to find solutions and solve issues that were beneficial to completing the projects. With these experiences of working with diverse groups and points of views, I have the ability to achieve results. Currently I am on the Tri-County Regional Planning & Zoning Commission. Eaton County Road Commission, Hamlin Township Planning & Zoning Board.	A: The largest issue facing the county is the budget and the unfunded liabilities. The county will be asking for a tax increase on the November ballot. I want to ensure that these funds are used to fix our issues and not spend that additional money on items that don't solve the issue or improve the quality of services provided to the county residents. We have an issue with the amount of sheriff deputy coverage in the rural areas. Many of the areas there is little to no coverage at all. This is an issue that needs improvement.	A: I feel our community has a few issues that need to be addressed, the first is many of our city's have aging water infrastructure. There needs to be a survey, mapping of all water lines, to find the lead and other hazardous water lines in our communities. There needs to be plans formulated to replace needed items. Second issue is our power production and distribution network. As our environment changes we need to look for more sustainable ways to produce energy for our growing community. Work on moving our power distribution network underground which reduces the chances of outages and improves the curb appeal of our neighborhoods and cities. I think looking at the new technology in the field of nuclear energy would provide our energy needs into the future. I feel the county government has a place in encouraging business and municipalities to look for solutions to these issues.	A: I feel the county health department needs to provide its core services such as Disease prevention, Health monitoring, Emergency preparedness, and Public health education. And find ways to use technologies to improve and increase data collection and information dissemination.

I advocate for our community through involvement in the Michigan Municipal League’s Black Caucus and New Mount Calvary Baptist Church. My goal is to continue fostering a thriving, inclusive Delta Township.	A: As our community grows, it’s crucial to ensure housing is accessible, especially for essential workers. We’re researching ordinance changes to incorporate tax incentives like Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILOT) to encourage developers to build affordable homes, which also creates construction jobs across all trades. In the past year, we’ve been approached by developers on new housing projects, but they face hurdles like utility constraints and financial feasibility. Our board has explored funding streams and successfully applied for grants like the CHILL and Housing Resource Grants. Our current ordinance from 1977 prohibits PILOTs, but many neighboring communities use them effectively. Repealing and updating this ordinance would support affordable housing, provide a revenue stream, and boost local economies. This aligns with our goal of ensuring all residents have access to affordable housing, enhancing the quality of life in Delta Township. I am committed to leading this effort.

I am seeking re-election to continue to give back in service to my community and do all I can to ensure Delta remains a wonderful place for all to live, work and play.	A: We are fortunate in that Delta Twp. is very fiscally sound. We offer outstanding services and amenities yet remain a low millage, affordable place to live. Those attributes have helped us continue to grow and thrive. In order to remain an attractive place for people and businesses alike, we must continue to invest in our community. Our need for more housing of all types (apartments, condos, single family homes, etc.) seems to be one of our most pressing issues, especially given the tremendous job creation happening in Delta. We want those working in our community to be able to live here too. We should work to remove any unnecessary barriers to develop housing here. Additionally, we need to continue investing in our water & sewer infrastructure to ensure we have the capacity to support further growth. These upgrades require significant resources. Continued strategic planning and prudent saving will reduce the burden of financing these projects on our residents.

I am a fifth-generation Grand Ledge High School graduate, and I am ‘Proud to be a Comet.’ But most notably, as a 2024 graduate, I have a perspective and experience that no one else on the Board has. For the last 14 years, I have spent 180 days a year at a Grand Ledge school. From Head Start to my senior year, I saw the best and worst of what GL had to offer. It is time we had a young mind on the board, someone who recently walked the halls of the schools they make policy for. It is time to give the next generation a voice! I want to be that voice. My three reasons for running are Parents, Students, and Educators. Our parents have the right to know what their children are being taught. Our Students have a right to a quality education and a safe place to receive that education. Our educators have the right to a fair and competitive wage!	A: Grand Ledge is a great district, but we have a lot of room for improvement. Grand Ledge is a very welcoming district; being a school of choice, we have a very diverse population, but no matter where you are from, when you are at Grand Ledge, you are always a Comet! Grand Ledge also has a great trades program from partnering with Lansing Community College and several other companies. Grand Ledge is also highly competitive in sports and Fine Arts competitions. Most importantly, behind the Public School system is a beautiful community! From the City of Grand Ledge to the outskirts of Eagle and Mulliken, the community supports the school! Grand Ledge also has fantastic educators. I truly believe the educators in our district are some of the best. That being said, they are worthy of so much more than they are paid and often feel like they are not supported by the administration. I will work to make sure our educators are taken care of!	A: When elected as a School Board member I am going to ensure we work for the community and its values. It seems at times that some of our board members and administrators have forgotten who they work for. Without the public the board has no purpose, and when I am on the board I will work for you! Transparency is everything, the taxpayer should know how their money is being spent, and the parents should know what their children are being taught! I want to ensure that parents see the board and the school as an open book. In a generation where suicide is at all time highs and mental health is at its worst, our government cut the funding for mental health by over 90%. I will make it my personal mission to advocate for mental health and school safety not just at board meetings, but also at our state capital! I will work with my fellow board members to make policy that serves our students, educators, and parents best! As I stated before I am running for Parents, Students, and Educators!

I have worked on a broad range of technologies and topics. I think my background would be relatively unique on our school board. GLPS utilizes a lot of technology across the district so my background would be helpful when discussing related topics. I have two children who are both in the district and over the last 10 years I have gotten to meet many teachers, administrators, and other parents. I’m married to a former GLPS teacher, and I personally know several other teachers. I’ve seen their dedication directly and I have a good understanding of what they go through. Finally, I think I am quite empathetic (at least I try to be). GLPS has many families from a wide range of backgrounds and every one of them have had their own unique experience with the district. I think it’s important to actively think about people who have had different experiences than my own when making decisions.	A: I think GLPS has made a lot of progress on being a welcoming and supportive environment for all students. Having spent some time around the kids and the teachers, I have seen the results of those efforts and it has been exciting and heartening. I think Grand Ledge has a lot of great collaboration between the board, administration, teachers, and staff. I’ve seen a lot of great planning at a building level that have demonstrated administration working closely with teachers to set, monitor, and achieve goals. The most recent round of contract negotiations has also gone quite well, I know not everyone loves the outcome but in general I think it was a very collaborative process with positive results. There is a big focus on setting rigorous academic goals and putting plans in place to meet those goals. It has been great to see the amount of data analysis happening at each building with the goal of improving student outcomes.	A: In general, I think our district is going in a great direction and I am most interested in continuing its current trajectory. think being a safe and supportive space for all of our kids is one of the most important things we can do. GL has made a lot of progress in this area, but it is an effort that you must continually work on and that is something I want to be a part of. I think that investing in our staff is one of the best ways to invest in our kids, I want GL to continue to have competitive contracts that attract and retain talented people. Everyone that works for our district has an impact on our kid’s lives, we should do everything we can to surround them with great people.

During the course of my career I have also served as a union officer, which afforded me the opportunity to study school budgets, negotiate, and understand the basic operations of a school system. Most importantly, my relationships with students and colleagues inform my outlook on how to develop and strengthen a public school system. I have two daughters who attend Grand Ledge schools: my older daughter begins 8th grade at Beagle and my younger daughter begins 5th grade at Hayes. Also, my wife (a teacher for the past 20 years) was just hired by Grand Ledge Public Schools as an instructional coach, working throughout the District. Given my background in education, my family, and friends in the community with school-aged children, I am invested in continuing the amazing growth and accomplishments of GLPS and serving to provide a voice for the community to further the opportunities for continued success for students.	A: While I am sure there are many more, I will focus on a few. Grand Ledge Public Schools places outcomes at the forefront of the decision-making process. The District not only developed a strong strategic plan, but the leadership looks to it to guide current and future plans and decisions. The District is led by administrators who are student-centered and empower the educators to lead with them toward achievement in the classroom, extending to accomplishments in the arts and athletics - all producing a GLPS graduate who is prepared to take the next steps. The quality of the staff in the entirety of the District, including the Superintendent, administration, teachers, and the support staff, is the envy of many. Finally, GLPS is fiscally responsible without being overly conservative, attracting new and high-quality staff while maintaining satisfaction of those currently working in the District. The District has also been forward-facing in its effort to welcome and support all students.	A: I am looking forward to working with other Board Members to ensure the continued success of the District. I am especially interested maintaining a high-quality education for all students; retaining and attracting the best teachers, especially in the current landscape of lower supply; maintaining and further developing a school culture that is open and respectful and safe for all students.

My educational background includes a BA in Public Administration and Public Policy—with a proven history of advocacy, working in the Michigan House of Representatives. I also have a MA in Educational Technology, with 12 years of experience in public schools. I am a proud member of key educational organizations, including the Michigan Association of Computer Users in Learning, Michigan School Business Officials, Michigan Association of School Administrators, and the Michigan School Public Relations Association. Locally, I am a member of the GLPS Caregiver School Improvement Team and was recently elected to serve as a board member on the Holbrook Elementary PTO.	A: Grand Ledge Public Schools is ahead of many other districts in its vertical alignment overall and in setting the tone for working toward a district strategic plan. Our strategic plan, goals for every building, and communication ensure that every grade level and department works cohesively toward shared educational goals. This dedication fosters a unified and forward-thinking environment where continuous improvement is not just a goal but a tangible reality, driving excellence throughout the district. Our innovative practices and growing reputation are attracting more and more top talent from local school districts, further enriching our educational community. We are stronger, more united, and more forward-looking than ever, and we are always getting better.	A: As a candidate for the school board, my priorities are to align our daily operations with our strategic plan, which serves as a 5-year roadmap for achieving our educational goals. This plan guides our decisions, ensuring that we continually assess and improve based on feedback and data to effectively support our students and community. Ensuring a safe and inclusive environment is my second priority. I am committed to advancing safety measures that address both physical and emotional well-being, combat bullying, and support all students, particularly those most vulnerable, by adopting evidence-based policies and restorative practices. Lastly, I aim to champion policies and practices that enhance educational quality and equity. This includes advocating for fully funded resources, supporting teacher development, and addressing the needs of students, parents, and educators at all levels. My goal is to amplify voices and ensure that all educational needs are represented and met.

A: Like other counties in the state, Ingham County is in the process of developing its Materials Management Plan (MMP) for Solid Waste Management for presentation to the State of Michigan. The board had decided to provide a single county plan while cooperating with regional interests. The county plan will be constructed under the guidance of a diverse group of local stakeholders.	A: Ingham County is the highest average millage tax county in the State of Michigan. This is detrimental due to the impact to current landowners and attracting new business. I want to be a county commissioner because I want a community where its people can live the best lives possible in an environment with clean air and water. I live in a rural part of the district and would like to see all people, whether they live in the city or in the countryside to have the same benefit from the taxes they pay. As an engineer I lean towards science and data driven policies that promote the most benefit for the largest number of constituents.	A: Clean groundwater is a major concern to many of the people in my district that have wells. Fuel leaks from gravel pit and farm equipment, agricultural chemicals, dust from farming practices are all a concern to many. I work closely with Capital Area Friends of the Environment (517CAFE) on many Lansing area environmental issues and legislation recently passed by the state of Michigan. There are many new opportunities that will directly benefit the people in my community. It will be my job as a county commissioner to obtain grants and financial resources to enable my constituents to quickly benefit from these new environmental provisions. The key will be for me to obtain as many grants and funds as possible and make sure that money is spent in the most efficient manor to provide the greatest benefit to our community.	A: Mental health and illegal drug use are a problem and are highly intertwined. I will make sure we have local workers in these areas to help our citizens find a better path. The high cost of housing and lack of local employment furthers these issues. I plan to discover new ways to make our community attractive to new businesses and to find ways to provide low cost housing for our citizens. Senior citizens are more impacted than others due to their fixed incomes so I will fight to make sure they are included in any county resolutions.

As a lifelong Holt resident with a background in environmental conservation and state policy, I bring an important perspective to local government. I have always believed that government requires leaders with scientific literacy and an understanding of environmental issues and challenges. I have also worked to ensure that Ingham County is a welcoming community where working families of all backgrounds are treated with dignity and respect.	A: Yes. Since joining the board, I have undertaken several measures to improve the county’s sustainability. By reviving the Environmental Affairs Commission and serving as its chair, I was able to create a new position—the Environmental Sustainability Manager—responsible for tracking environmental needs and implementing strategic solutions. We are working to complete a comprehensive Sustainability Action Plan that will guide our environmental initiatives going forward. Environmental Affairs Commission meetings are open to the public and I encourage those interested to attend and learn more.	A: 1. Transparency and accountability: Few people understand the role and importance of county government. This is largely due to a lack of engagement with the public and local news. The county must improve, making its business more accessible and encouraging public engagement. If I am reelected, I will advocate for a contract with a public relations professional. This would shine a light on what the county is doing and how our work impacts local families. 2. Efficient county services: In order to guarantee the continued availability of Ingham County services, we must ensure available funds are diligently managed. We must be careful not to fatigue our tax base and risk jeopardizing the services local seniors and working families depend on. If reelected, I will continue working with my colleagues to spend down millage fund surpluses and avoid levying millages where possible. I am also reevaluating millage language, ensuring we match community needs and capacity.

Todd Tennis Party: Democratic Biographical Info: Education: University of Michigan, Bachelor of Science Campaign Phone: 517.202.2303	A: I was first elected to the Board of Commissioners in 2006. In my time as a commissioner, I have had to make tough decisions during the housing market crash, seek ways to address a deadly opioid epidemic, and most recently figure out how to maintain vital county operations in the teeth of a global pandemic. Through it all, the county has managed to avoid fiscal or political disasters that have beset other local governments. We have also continued to lead the state in terms of providing services to our residents and promoting the fair and equitable treatment of all people. Of course, it takes a full board of hard working and dedicated commissioners for the above to come about. I will only say that my commitment to running a local unit of government that puts people first has only increased during my time on the board.	A: We as county commissioners are frequently asked about issues where we have little authority to make broad changes. State law puts strong guardrails around counties when it comes to creating ordinances and regulations to protect the environment. That said, the county has created an Environmental Affairs Commission to advise the county on green practices and policies with the goal of reducing to the greatest extent possible Ingham County’s carbon footprint. We are exploring ideas such as switching to electric vehicles for county use, installing renewable energy generation on county property, and other environmentally friendly policies. Commissioner Chris Trubac has been a strong voice in this area, and I’m proud to support his leadership.	A: Ingham County faces many challenges such as youth violence, substance use disorder, a lack of affordable housing and an aging population that needs more supports and services. We have engaged with and provided funding to local and national non-profit groups in an effort to stem the tide of gun violence, particularly among young people. We successfully participated in a national lawsuit of opioid manufacturers and are preparing to issue grants to community treatment organizations with the hope of providing more treatment options for those who want to recover. We are working on a housing millage that would help push back against skyrocketing housing prices in Ingham County and give families a fighting chance to afford quality housing. We are also sending to the voters a renewal of our senior millage that primarily funds the local area agency on aging that provides home-delivered meals, home repair services and care counseling for our growing population of aging county residents.

As a mom, I want healthy, vibrant neighborhoods where our kids can play in clean and safe parks. As a public health and child welfare expert, I want to lend my voice and experience into making impactful decisions that lead to thriving children and families. My background and professional career is in the area of social work, specifically child welfare, focused on foster care and adoption efforts. I am deeply connected to the programs and structural challenges placed by children and families across the state of Michigan. As a woman raised in the culture of public service I am deeply dedicated to using my consensus building skills to place the welfare of people over politics.	A: One of the key environmental areas that the commission could focus on is air quality. Addressing air quality standards and requirements for businesses and industries doing business in Ingham county is a low cost investment that could yield multigenerational benefits. Many interlinked bio psychosocial factors are impacted by the access to physical health safety such as having clean air- so this would be a place to start.	A: Access to services for physical and behavioral health needs are a key issue facing the county. Discussing the utilization of county child care funds and other public dollars to expand services to children and families is a key step in prioritizing service expansion. The county recently demonstrated incredibly forward thinking and partnership development through the implementation of the RIP medical debt program- this type of innovative thinking is a step in the right direction when it comes to identifying a problem and working strategically to address it. One reason why people experience medical debt is because they have underlying issues that they are not able to obtain regular or routine treatment to address. Expanding accessible services by working towards identifying opportunities for programmatic partnerships and workforce development would be key in addressing this issue.

A: We need to maintain and enforce existing quality standards for surface and ground water. Chemical contaminants should be monitored. However, dumped items need to be removed from waterways. For example electric motor scooters, bicycles, car tires, etcetera need to be physically removed from rivers and lakes. Similarly air quality contamination limits need to be monitored and enforced against those that are source polluters.	A: Housing shortages, medical access for the underserved, and elderly services are all important. These services already exist. We need to educate the public that the services are available. The organizations that provide these services need to coordinate with each other because there is some overlap. Communication and coordination are important to be effective. The board of commissioners has been working on millage language that will be on some of the upcoming ballots. There will be proposals for medical services, elderly services, and housing in the next few upcoming ballots. We, the Ingham Board of Commissioners, are giving the voters opportunity to decide whether or not they believe that we should continue these services. A: While the county has some ability to impact these issues, much of this is governed by state law. What the county can do is continue our efforts to reduce our carbon footprint and promote clean energy usage.	A: One critical issues is access to healthcare. The county continues to provide access to healthcare through our Community Health Centers and the Ingham Health Plan, which is offered through a special millage. We have also recently expanding that millage to include funding for mental healthcare. Another issue is housing affordability, the county has used $9M in ARPA funding to expand access to housing and has an additional $15M from the state for the same purpose. With voter approval this fall, Ingham County hopes to pass a millage that will levy funds to further support housing and address homelessness.

I have served on the Law and Courts committee, the County Services committee, and the Finance committee, because I want to use my time in office to become familiar with as many different areas of operation as possible.	A: Environmental issues are important to anyone who is paying attention. The county is mindful of our global footprint, but there is always room for improvement. On a micro level, after my first few committee meetings I realized that there was not a recycle bin in the committee room, which meant that a lot of paper was being unnecessarily thrown away. I requested a recycle bin in the committee room and am happy to say that it is used by virtually everyone.	A: Ingham County prides itself on providing a large array of services to county residents, but we can't do it alone. A: Ingham County has been fairly quick to deal with emerging issues, particularly through our health department. I'm not aware of any environmental problem where we are not already leading the other counties in Michigan. We were among the first to require rural septic systems to be inspected at the point of sale. We're reexamining our solid waste disposal plan, in view of new state laws. I'm literally not aware of any environmental issue which has been raised that Ingham County has failed to at least consider. Of course, we have to keep in mind that Michigan law reserves most environmental oversight powers to state government. Because counties in Michigan lack general police powers, we can only act in fields where we have been given explicit authority.	A: 1) We need more diverse taxing powers, so we can move away from almost total dependence on property taxes. Our ability to tax real estate, but almost nothing else, is becoming a problem because our per capita taxable value is very low compared to other counties, and because real estate is no longer a very good measure of wealth or financial capacity. 2) Many of our operations only make sense if understood as the outgrowth of historical processes. We are a number of years behind in applying technology, particularly in interaction with the public. 3) We need to begin consolidating units of government, with the assistance of changes to state law. In many areas, governmental power resides in the hands of tiny units, many of which lack any full-time staff, let alone professionals.

Irene M. Cahill Party: Democratic Biographical Info: Campaign Phone: 517.488.1486 Campaign Address: 657 Virginia Avenue	A: I am running for reelection. I was appointed October 12, 2021 to replace the former commissioner. I submitted my resume and interviewed successfully. I dove right in and in 2024 became Chairperson of the Human Services Committee. Human Services serves as the liaison for 16 departments & agencies: Health Dept., Parks Dept., Board of Health, Potter Park Zoo, Capital Area District Library, Housing Commission, Michigan Mid-South Health, Community Mental Health Board, Medical Examiner. I serve on 12 other committees besides Human Services and have experience with the ever changing needs of Ingham County residents and the Ingham County Budget.	A: There are many environmental issues Ingham County is working on. The Materials Management Planning Committee began interviewing candidates June 17 and will resume July 15. This board will be appointed for a 5 year term to site a solid waste disposal facility operator, a composting facility or anaerobic digester operator, a waste diversion, reuse, or reduction facility operator. The focus will be sustainable materials management approaches instead of just landfilling waste. Besides the Clean Sweep initiative run by the Ingham County Health Dept. to collect hazardous waste twice weekly from May-September the Materials Management Planning committee will be doing important work in conjunction with the other 82 counties in Michigan.	A: Housing is a vital concern for a multitude of reasons. Ingham County is working with Tri-County Regional Planning as a part of leadership to address critical housing. The Capital Area Housing Partnership is working with Tri-County Office on Aging to keep people in their homes with housing rehab of roofs, windows ... and Tuesday Toolmen which builds ramps in the tri-county and beyond.

My degree is in electrical engineering and I worked as one for about decade in both small and large group projects. It allows me to take a systems-level approach to problems and look for unintended consequences. I have a good command of numbers for both budgetary and technology topics. I chose to change gears and become a stay-at-home father about ten years ago, which has given me insight into the county across a cross-section of programming such as the educational system and health department. I get to meet a lot of people, especially other parents, and build personal relationships. I am running for office because I have a strong belief that government properly understood and implemented to secure our rights can promote a flourishing society and allow us to build vibrant communities as we work with our neighbors, side by side, in safety.	A: The best way that government can ensure a clean environment is to make sure individuals can seek damages and restitution to be made whole if they are subjected to harmful environmental factors such as pollution. This keeps businesses and neighbors mindful of the consequences of their actions by knowing they can be held accountable for any harms they inflict on others.	A: The biggest issues that ever face the County or any level of government are those regarding its proper function. Law enforcement and public safety need to take center stage because that is the most basic function of government. Holding criminals accountable for violent crime and property crime is the foundation of a flourishing society. Road integrity and safety is also one of the most important functions of government, especially at the county level. Our clerks are administrators also provide necessary record-keeping and election functions that are core to a functional and trustworthy democracy.

As a School Social Worker I found joy in advocating and being a Change Agent on behalf of children and families. This was my springboard to the Michigan Education Association as a UniServ Director. MEA allowed me to impact more educators across the State. For the last 20 years, I've negotiated hundreds of collective bargaining agreements in conjunction with school administrators which addressed their wages, healthcare and ancillary benefits. MEA also afforded me the opportunity to work to elect pro-public education legislators. As the Director of Field Services at MESSA, an insurance provider for school employees, I help bring school employees peace of mind when it comes to their health concerns. This role has enhanced my leadership, project management and budgetary skills all while ensuring my staff have what they need to be successful. These skills are useful to enhance my community for future generations and ensure its growth.	A: We should all feel safe in our homes and community. In order to feel safe, we need to make sure we have our basic needs met such as clean water and air, free of chemical toxins. Having safe spaces, such as parks, lakes and recreation allows for communal time and a chance to connect with many diverse people. I want to ensure that I play my part in ensuring those things and spaces remain safe for generations to come within my community. Serving on the Ingham County Board of Commissioners will ensure I can be a voice that represents my community needs and expectations and help preserve what we currently have and build upon it so that we remain a top place to live within Ingham County.	A: I believe there are many pressing issues within Ingham County, and my goal is to make sure I seek out the input of my constituents in District 13 to hear what they too believe are pressing issues in Ingham County. Collecting that input allows me the ability to accurately and effectively address those issues which could ultimately lead to potential resolutions on behalf of us residents. For example, are our senior needs being successfully met? In order for me to know that, I have to engage our seniors and see what is working, what isn't and what ideas they may have to help make things better.

Meridian Township is a community with high property values, boxing out a lot of new Americans and young families who want to make this place their home. I am also a lover of parks and nature, serving on the Ingham County Parks Commission. The township government can work with players, ranging from other government entities, developers and the drain commission to find new housing while not paving over our 1800 acres of parks and wetlands that our community loves. This comes from working as a team to find solutions that work for everyone. I want to be a good-faith member of a team that can bring more people to our special part of mid-Michigan.

I am experienced serving on municipal boards, have been a lawyer over 45 year and have a varied career in state government, education, and human resources. I am running to help assure our citizens continue to receive the benefits of living in one of the most popular places to live in the State of Michigan. We must continue to provide public safety, roads and essential services to our residents. We must protect our environment, support our extensive parks and trail system, manage growth sensibly and create opportunities for businesses to come to Meridian Township to provide those services that our community wants. We must continue efforts to reduce our impact on climate change through reduction of energy use and support of clean energy options both for the Township and our residents.	A: With the COVID-19 state and federal funds now ended, the Township will encounter challenges in creating a budget. I will work with our community to focus our spending priorities to continue to support the essential services which make Meridian Township a great place to live, work and learn. Key areas include public safety, the environment, parks and recreation and community services, while paying down pension and retiree health care deficits that have accrued over many years. Another area of some urgency is the impending loss of the current Meridian Senior Center due to school construction. The Center has been a joint operation of Meridian Township and Okemos Public Schools. The Township is exploring the feasibility of creating a new Community/Senior Center in a central location that will serve our entire community. I hope to lend my experience and creativity to support and facilitate this new service to our residents.

I also served as a Planning Commissioner for four years. As a 38-year resident of Meridian Township, I have volunteered for decades in my community: at the food pantry in downtown Lansing for the past 12 years, member and past President of the Haslett-Okemos Rotary, long-time member and former Treasurer of the Friends of the Okemos Library, co-chair of the 2022 Okemos Public Schools Bond Campaign, former member of the Okemos Education Foundation, and several other current boards and commissions. Public service is my passion. I am running for Meridian Township Trustee because I believe in good government and fiscal responsibility. I bring a broad education, work experience in management and strength in teamwork and collaboration to the Board. I make carefully considered decisions in the best interest of our residents.	A: The Township Board’s goal is to provide excellent service to our residents. Two pressing areas are police protection and repairing local streets. Our police staffing last Fall was alarmingly low. We took steps to create a police retention program, with higher wages and benefits, to attract qualified candidates and ensure that we will have full staff of 42 officers. We are currently at 39, seven of whom are in field training. We are in a better position, but the work is not done. Addressing this issue is a key priority. The condition of our 180 miles of local streets has been a challenge. We embarked on a road improvement plan six years ago to bring all of our streets up to an acceptable level. With COVID-19, the cost of asphalt had sky-rocketed, which has impacted how many miles of road we can repair or replace. It has slowed our progress, but the Township Board is investigating creative ways to stretch our dollars to improve this critical infrastructure.

The Council sets budget and policy priorities for the City with the primary goal of providing necessary services, such as public safety and the management and maintenance of city assets. Accomplishing this goal is often complex due to limited financial and personnel resources. It is critical that a Council member has historical knowledge and technical capabilities suited to resolving conflicting demands on such resources in order to retain community and financial stability. Over many years as a Council member and Mayor I have a demonstrated ability to identify cost effective solutions in the face of conflicting demands.	A: Mason is a great place to live and raise a family. City government is operated efficiently and, to that end, focuses predominately on core, necessary services. The City is very active in collaborating with private organizations to provide additional services in a manner that minimizes the cost to the City. Mason tax and utility rates are very competitive with surrounding cities. Over the past few years, numerous policies and practices for budgeting and planning have been established to enable the City to efficiently tackle expensive projects while keeping government costs to residents as low as possible. Mason is a desirable place to live as evidenced by the low turnover in houses, the relatively high market value of housing, and the construction of new houses. Mason residents and businesses energetically support and develop activities, such as festivals, beautification, and education that enhance the City as a hometown. The City workforce is skilled and devoted to improving the City.	A: The most significant challenge for the City is similar to that faced by us all. The costs of goods and services have increased dramatically over recent years. Construction costs have more than doubled in many cases. At the same time, funding sources have not kept pace with rising costs putting pressure on the City budget. The City must be creative and diligent in planning for projects such as street maintenance, park improvements, and large construction projects, such as a much needed DPW facility, while sufficiently funding ongoing operations. My extensive experience in Mason government and proven technical, finance, and leadership skills allow me to effectively collaborate with City staff and Council members to minimize the impact of increasing costs to residents, including efforts to grow the tax base. I will continue to work collaboratively with residents to understand their concerns while providing accurate information and transparency regarding City decisions and actions.

Elizabeth Guerrero Lyons Party: Non-Partisan	A: Currently serving on the board, I bring valuable qualifications that enhance my ability to contribute effectively to our district. My experience as Vice President for the past two years has equipped me with strong leadership and communication skills, enabling me to foster collaboration and drive initiatives that benefit our educational community. Additionally, I prioritize active listening to understand the diverse perspectives of our families, students, teachers, and administration. This commitment to open dialogue ensures that all voices are heard and respected, allowing us to make informed decisions that reflect the needs and aspirations of our community. I am dedicated to continuing this collaborative approach, promoting transparency, and working towards the best outcomes for our students and schools in the ELPS district.	A: As a member of the school board, I have witnessed the strengths of our district: dedicated educators, a commitment to equity, a focus on student wellness, and strong community support. Dedicated Educators-Our educators at ELPS are passionate and committed, prioritizing student success and fostering a positive learning environment. They adapt their teaching methods to meet diverse needs, focusing on nurturing social-emotional well-being. Commitment to Equity -Our district provides equitable access to resources and opportunities for every student. This commitment informs our policies, promoting inclusivity and addressing disparities while engaging families and community members for feedback. Focus on Student Wellness-We prioritize mental health and safety. Our programs support emotional well-being, equipping students with coping strategies. This focus rebuilds trust within our community, creating a supportive environment for academic growth.	A: If re-elected, I would continue to focus on several key issues to enhance the educational experience for all students. Equity in Education- I will continue to promote initiatives that ensure equitable access to resources, programs, and opportunities for all students, addressing any disparities that may exist based on socioeconomic status, race, or learning abilities. Mental Health and Wellness: we have done an excellent job in this area-which includes expanding counseling services, training staff to recognize and address mental health issues, and promoting a culture of well-being. We will want to continue to strengthen mental health support and social-emotional learning programs within our schools. Safety and Security. Ensuring the safety of our students is paramount. With the new bond passed we will continue to advocate for comprehensive safety plans, including mental health awareness, crisis response training, and a safe physical environment in our schools.

I was elected to a full term from January 2019 through January 2023 and was appointed to fill a vacancy on the Board in March 2023. I have served as School Board President since January of 2024. I previously worked as a teacher and coach in New York City Public Schools and in Virginia. I have two children in the District. I currently work as an Administrative Law Judge for the State of Michigan--adjudicating disputes between citizens and state agencies. I have unique experiences and perspectives as a former teacher, a parent, a community member, and an attorney. During my time on the School Board, our District has rebuilt six elementary schools on time and under budget, invested in new contracts for our teachers that made them among the highest paid in the region, supported the needs of our students through unprecedented challenges, and our District is in its strongest financial position in a generation.	A: Our District is a leader in meeting the academic and socio-emotional needs of our students. We offer high-quality curriculum in the classroom delivered by experienced teachers. In addition to traditional academics, our District is invested in building a positive culture in our buildings and giving our students tools to succeed in the classroom and in their lives outside of school. Our District is a leader in promoting diversity and equity. Our students and teachers come from a variety of backgrounds that enhance the learning and day-to-day experience of the people in our schools. We have created inclusive school communities where everyone's voice is heard. Our District is building for the future. We have updated our curriculum and invested in teacher retention during my tenure. We rebuilt our elementary schools and upgraded our athletic and arts facilities. We have committed to improving security and accessibility at our High School and Middle School over the next two years.	A: It is essential to continue raising the bar for academic success. If I am re-elected, I will work to ensure equitable access to opportunities for our students, high standards, and a focus on meeting students' individual needs. I will seek innovative ways to promote academic achievement and prepare our students to succeed in college and other post-secondary endeavors. I will continue our investments in teacher retention and giving our teachers independence to teach and inspire the next generation. Our District will invest in classroom resources for educators to deliver and differentiate instruction in challenging and engaging ways, and create welcoming and affirming classroom communities for our diverse student population. I will work to continue incorporating technology and practical skills into our students' educational experience to ensure that our students are positioned to succeed in the future. I love this community, and I believe in our excellent public schools!

I work at the State House of Representatives and my partner is working towards her Doctorate in Physics from MSU. I have an intimate understanding of the workings of the state government, deep connections to the university, and the desire to listen to every voice in the district and organize for everyone in the school system.	A: The East Lansing School District is fantastic, with a great superintendent, excellent board members, nearly ideal teacher:student ratios, high quality staff, good infrastructure, and phenomenal families. Our community is resilient and understands the values of respect and kindness. These values guide our district, empower our students, and represent a strong moral foundation. Building on that foundation is critical and more than possible, if we work for it.	A: Perhaps the biggest issues facing this, and every school district in America, is a disconnect from community. This disconnect leads to worse practical skills training, reduced student engagement, and weakened teacher, student, and guardian rights. When any one of these groups feels disrespected they lose motivation and involvement. I believe it is the job of the school board to ensure that this trifecta remain highly involved, because it improves student outcomes and makes the district desirable for teachers, students, and parents. This means collaborating with local unions, community service organizations, and developing in students lifelong confidence in their practical skills and abilities.
Estrella Torrez Party: Non-Partisan Biographical Info: Campaign Phone: 517.884.1327	A: For over 15 years, I have worked closely with Indigenous and Latine families in the Greater Lansing area through culturally supportive community events and K-12 after-school programming. Through these commitments, I have maintained a connection to various schools and educational settings and, more importantly, built relationships with families from diverse backgrounds. My intent has always been and continues to be to create spaces where students, parents, teachers, and community members across demographics feel supported and heard. In over the decade and a half of working alongside local schools, I have worked diligently to build trust by listening to students, parents, caregivers, teachers, administrators, and community leaders. This trust has led to co-developing projects and programming addressing concerns emerging from these discussions. I have learned that best practices are based on understanding community resources and setting realistic, agreed-upon expectations.	A: The district’s strengths are its dedicated staff and community. The district continues to grow in response to student and family voices. The commitment to listening earnestly to student and family needs is unique to the East Lansing School District. The hard work teachers, staff, and administrators put in to ensure a nurturing, caring, and supportive environment for our community’s students is more than a strength; it is inspiring.	A: Through creating a culturally sustaining/supportive learning environment, I want to continue strengthening the school district’s commitment to DEI and creating supportive educational environments for all students, faculty, and staff through intentional program and partnership development. Given a post-pandemic environment, it is becoming increasingly necessary for ELPS to emphasize socio-emotional and physical well-being support for all its students, faculty, and community members. Students are our top priority; however, we should also prioritize creating or maintaining a healthy work environment for staff and faculty. I also want to maintain strong lines of bidirectional communication with all stakeholders, including faculty, staff, caregivers, students, and the East Lansing and Michigan State communities.

I bring the skills to make informed decisions that positively impact the broader educational community. I have also had direct involvement in educational policy and planning as a ELPS Return to School Work Group Covid-19 Planning Community Member and Robert L. Green Community Council Volunteer. Leadership Skills - The ability to lead effectively in diverse organizational settings. I previously served as Pinecrest Neighborhood Association President and I am a graduate of the E.L. Emerging Leaders program. Advocacy and Representation: My perspective emphasizes the importance of arts, community development, and civic engagement in education. I currently serve on the E.L. Housing Commission, as Vice Chair for the Lansing Regional Smart Zone and as a Crisis Advocate for the MSU Center for Survivors.	A: The East Lansing School District boasts several strengths, not the least of which are our experienced and dedicated educators. In 2024, our community successfully passed the Safety, Security, and Accessibility bond which highlights the district's emphasis on mental health and inclusive environments. We have strong leadership working to provide effective guidance and curate a positive school culture. Our diverse programs, integration of technology, and innovative curriculum drive academic excellence with strong student achievement. Active support and partnerships with local organizations and institutions, such as MSU, show a commitment to fostering students who are globally aware and engaged in their communities.	A: Excellence is our measure. We are on the cusp of a significant cultural and curricular shift with the prevalence of AI in our students' lives. Our educators are already collaborating with experts to thoughtfully integrate AI into our curriculum. I'd like to help in developing a clear policy framework that ensures equitable access and promotes digital literacy. Groundwork has been done to create more transparent feedback loops between parents/guardians and administrators about the student experience. I'd like the board to continue its work to nurture and refine this strength and stretch it toward excellence. I would also like to work with administration and within the constructs of the 2024 bond to recentralize our schools as hubs to the spokes of our community. I will advocate for efficient use of funds and explore additional resources to foster a diverse and inclusive school community environment.

I have training in working with a diverse group of people groups that I achieved while pursuing my teacher certification. As a parent and educator within the district, I will bring both perspectives to the Board.	A: The strengths of the district are its diversity; there are people with vastly different ideas and perspectives working together. Another strength is the district's willingness to discuss hard topics (equity, curriculum, etc.) and its ability to work hard as resolving longstanding issues. Another strength that the district has is its rich history - many administrator, teachers, and staff are former graduates of the very district they now work in.	A: I want to address the issue of community and parent involvement. What are ways we can bring the table of educational decisions back to the community and parents? A: The Lansing School District is located in Michigan’s capitol. It is situated in mid-Michigan and has the most diverse student population in the area, serving students of all races, nationalities, religions, gender identities, and creeds. The district’s superpower is its availability to be visible in the community. The district is very effective in engaging the community in its major projects. The district is also distinctively suited, with its resources, to support students who need accommodations	A: Parent and Family Engagement: We must address the disconnect between schools and student outcomes by involving those who understand the community’s needs in shaping policies that support our children’s success. Empowering Teachers: I will promote strong partnerships between families and educators to rebuild trust and affirm that teachers are experts committed to every child’s success. Improving Educational Outcomes: Enhancing educational results requires the whole community’s involvement, focusing on addressing achievement gaps and preparing students for future success. Supporting Student Well-Being: We need to listen to students’ needs for enrichment and mental health support, ensuring that our efforts on the school board address these issues and promote student achievement.

The opportunity to learn how to live and learn with students and staff from a variety of backgrounds ethnically, socio-economically, religiously, etc. provides students with experiences that will yield life-long benefits as future leaders in the family, workplace, and wider community. The ability to offer a variety of academic offerings including career & technical training, advanced placement courses, dual-enrollment, international baccalaureate, language immersion, environmental education, online learning, and more is a great strength of the district. Leadership in the green energy transition and efforts to pursue sustainability for facilities and operations are a great strength. Leveraging local, state, and federal grants to provide support services and programs is another strength that benefits students and families.	A: My priorities as a school board member will continue to be increasing student achievement, pursuing sustainability, and increasing parent and community involvement. Data on attendance, graduation rates, and test scores are all moving in positive directions, but we must remain focused on ensuring that students have knowledge and skills to be prosperous beyond high school. We need to ensure students are showing growth each year and reaching proficiency in subject areas that are tested and in life skills needed to be contributing community members. It is important that efforts continue to reduce carbon emissions in ways that benefit the environment, improve the health of students, and reduce operating costs. Trusting relationships with students, families, and community members need to be developed and restored to support staff and provide the extra services that can help students overcome challenges and form connections that boost self-esteem, increase engagement, & promote achievement.

I was in Kindergarten for Columbine, my first presidential election as a registered voter was Obama/Romney. The world is not what it once was, at the same time nothing has really changed.	A: 1. Being a Public School District: The fact that we are holding democratic elections for board leadership is a strength of the Lansing School District. As a public school district Lansing Schools can focus on meeting the needs of our community rather than making a profit. 2. Diversity: Lansing is made up of a multitude of diverse communities and the Lansing School District reflects this. Diversity will always be a strength. With diversity of culture and lived experience comes diversity of thought and ideas. Lansing School District feels like a place that understands we always do better when we put our heads together. 3. Increased Graduation Rates: Earlier this year the Lansing School District celebrated record high graduation rates. Whatever changes were made that resulted in this increase should be studied and systems streamlined in an effort to maintain and further increase graduation rates.	A: 1. Teacher Retention: I wasn't the first teacher to walk away from the Lansing School District and I wasn't the last either. I would want to assess any existing efforts to retain teachers in the district before making broad suggestion but as an unretained teacher myself I know what doesn't work and I know we can do better. 2. Student Discipline: So often our discipline in schools is punitive and lacks a true educational element. If elected I would advocate for restorative and transformative practices for discipline that foster important life skills like conflict resolution and non-violent communication. 3. 100% On-Site Renewables: Lansing School District is the largest public building stock in our area, meaning more square feet of roof top than anywhere else. With extensive experience working directly with children, I have gained a profound understanding of their educational and developmental needs. My background in social work has provided me with valuable insight into the challenges our students and families face outside the classroom, instilling in me the importance of offering holistic support to ensure that our students can thrive both academically and personally. Currently, I serve as a Senior Analyst in the Juvenile Justice Division for the State of Michigan, where my expertise in processing data and metrics enables me to critically analyze educational data, identify trends, and make informed decisions that can positively impact our youth. I am a strong advocate for data-driven decision-making.	A: The district has several strengths that stand out. One of the most significant achievements is the positive trajectory toward an 85% graduation rate by 2025, reflecting a strong commitment to student success. Additionally, programs like Families Overcoming Rough Times (F.O.R.T.) provide essential support to students facing temporary or inadequate living situations, ensuring they have the necessary resources to thrive. The district also offers free therapy through Talkspace, ensuring that students have access to vital mental health resources. Furthermore, recent facility improvements, including the introduction of new technologies in classrooms, the establishment of greenhouses, and updates to school buildings like Willow, Riddle, and Mt. Hope, demonstrate a dedication to creating a supportive and enriching learning environment.	A: My commitment is to ensure every student in the district receives the quality education they deserve. If elected, I will focus on several key priorities. First, I will champion higher academic standards and innovative programs to help students excel. Transparency is also essential, and I will ensure regular, open communication with parents, students, and teachers to foster trust and collaboration. Promoting policies that celebrate diversity and create an inclusive environment for all students is another priority. Additionally, I will advocate for the integration of modern technology and digital tools to enhance learning and keep schools at the forefront of educational advancements.

I have an earned Ph.D. in Educational Leadership and Policy Studies and a certification in Community College Teaching and Leadership from Iowa State University. I have served for the past 12 years in executive leadership roles at Alabama A & M University and Michigan State University. I am also an incumbent to the LCC board which gives me some experience working to support LCC. As well I am a member of multiple higher education organizations on a national, regional and local level.	A: The proper role of the Board is to guide and support the president in strategic planning and financial oversight. With a focus on those two areas the board will engage the community, advocacy for funding, promote student success and institutional effectiveness. The Board is the governing body for LCC that directs the president and their team on the best ways for institutional success. The Board holds the institution accountable to the citizens of Ingham County.	A: My vision for LCC is that the college will provide opportunities for people to gain knowledge that is affordable. LCC should be one of the leading institutions in Ingham County in the development of social and economic growth. I vision LCC being the heartbeat of the community.

The ability to listen: Successful leaders represent everyone, not just the people that agree with them. They are also always looking for new and better ways to do things, whether by their own ideas or listening to someone else's. 2. They are willing to compromise: Finding ways to make various groups of people happy is often difficult. But successful leaders are able to mediate the differences between individuals and groups to find solutions and compromises to drive the community forward. 3. They work hard and lead by example: Time is our most valuable asset as people. Successful leaders invest significant time into building collaboration - developing ideas and making sure those ideas are then implemented. As a lifetime member of our community and long time neighborhood leader, I have always brought these three qualities to the table, and would once again bring them to the LCC Board of Trustees	A: Like any educational institution, the role should be to assist the students of our community find the correct career path that fits their talents and abilities. Whether this is students taking the “traditional” approach or deciding on a vocational pathway or finding their inner entrepreneur. We need to make sure we are supplying every pathway and opportunity for our students to find success and to help prepare them for the careers of today and tomorrow.	A: I think a successful community college acts like an educational Swiss army knife. It has the ability to morph into whatever the needs of the student require and offers them a wide variety of pathways and opportunities based on their abilities. I think LCC has done a great job in offering these opportunities. I hope to assist in continuing to develop existing pathways and look to forge the way into the jobs and careers of tomorrow.

Box 21144 Lansing, MI 48909	A: I have lived in the greater Lansing area for over 40 years. I bring a background in Credit Union management and a financial background of over 20 years. I am an alumnus of LCC and hold a bachelor’s degree in management from the University of Phoenix. I worked directly with the students, faculty, and staff for over 5 years when I was the overseer for the Credit Union branch located in the Gannon building at LCC, becoming a mentor to most students. Formerly, I served on the LCC alumni committee association helping to strategize ways to increase funding for student scholarships. I bring a deep passion for our students success in whatever pathway they choose.	A: LCC has been and continues to be a staple in our community. Lansing Community College has grown in its reputation, image, and diverse population of students. The role of the community college is to provide an education for all students, no matter what area of life they are in, that’s affordable, attainable, and providing “quality” education. To continue to offer unique, diverse, programs and that keep up with the ever-changing economic workforces of today’s times.	A: My vision for LCC is to enhance LCC’s role as a community member by deepening strategic relationships and engagement with LCC partnerships. Recognizing the diverse needs that LCC serves, will help me collaborate with the board to look at relevant programs and detailed strategic plans tailored to all communities. I want to help to continue bridging the gap between financial literacy and financial capability by working with the current programs LCC offers and by looking at more effective student-options to mandate financial wellness course (s) before graduation. Keeping tuition affordable for students will continue to help in these efforts. I have a vision of LCC students staying the course of their total program without gaps by working with the board to figure out ways to get valuable, measured feedback from students

Michigan Elections are Decentralized

Michigan’s elections are carried out at the local level by 1,520 city and township clerks across the state.

- 83 Michigan county clerks support and supplement the work of local clerks by coordinating election materials, managing county-level contracts with election vendors, programming the election equipment, and providing information to voters.
- Michigan Bureau of Elections is a non-partisan office within the Michigan Department of State (MDOS), providing guidance and standards to all clerks to ensure elections are carried out uniformly and in accordance with state and federal laws.
- Secretary of State is the state’s chief election officer. The SOS has broad authority over elections but does not directly administer them.

They serve as a vital bridge for individuals seeking to improve their skills, advance their careers, or pursue higher education. Community colleges are essential in addressing local workforce needs by offering programs that align with industry demands and providing pathways to skilled trades, certifications, and degrees. Community colleges support lifelong learning by offering opportunities for personal and professional growth at every stage of life.	A: My vision for Lansing Community College is to establish it as a leading institution that excels in academic and vocational training. My priorities are: Access to Education & Financial Assistance: Ensuring that education remains accessible and affordable for all students. Mentorship to Graduation: Developing and enhancing mentorship programs that support students throughout their academic journeys. Pathways to Skilled Trades & Certifications: Expanding opportunities for students to gain certifications and training in skilled trades, preparing them for high-demand careers in our region. Career Preparation & Placement: Enhance career preparation services to ensure that students are well-equipped for the workforce.

Bradley S. Dunlap Party: Non-Partisan	A: I am a parent of a child currently enrolled in the school district. I am also an alumni of Leslie Public Schools as I spent the entirety of my K-12 education as a Blackhawk. I have lived here my entire life, own a five generation business, and have a deep connection with this community. I also sit on our community's planning commission. Our business is a multi-generational family farm. I am an active listener and put in the work to research what is going on and how I can help whether that be with change or with helping to understand. I am dedicated to our community, our school district, and all the families we serve.	A: Our district is a small rural district, which I believe is its biggest strength. We are able to offer a safe learning environment that reflects the values of our community. Our children are individuals in our school and not a number. The teachers and staff truly care about our kids and strive to provide them with the best education possible ensuring they are ready to be active members in our community.	A: One area I would like to continue to address is teacher retention. I believe that when high-quality teachers are taken care of, they stay. When high-quality teachers stay, students grow. We have taken strides in ensuring that our teachers feel supported and have the desire to stay. I would like to continue this conversation and efforts to ensure that Leslie Public Schools has and retains the brightest and best educators that our students need and deserve. I would also like to continue to work on our testing scores. Over the last two years we have improved, but I believe there are still areas available for improvement. We have highly-qualified staff who are working incredibly hard, and aren't afraid to try something new to accomplish this goal, which is very encouraging. I am confident that we will continue to see improvement under our school leadership's guidance.

Michael Kelly Party: Non-Partisan Biographical Info:	A: I have served 6 years on the Mason School Board, worked with two district administrations, and witnessed the most educationally disruptive and impactful events this community and its families have ever experienced. For more than 30 years I have worked with schools, communities, and industry to solve problems and access resources, from drug prevention and education to the development and implementation of online learning and training.	A: Mason benefits from a proud and supportive community and exceptional teachers and staff. The District strives to create supportive learning and work environments for students and staff, and values practices that help new teachers become better educators.	A: Engage and support parents. Parents are the primary teacher in the education of their children. We must strive to create opportunities for parents to be a more informed and meaningful part of their child's education. It is not easy, but we must encourage parent responsibility with supportive policies and practices that empower parents and remove barriers to their involvement. Our policies must reflect Mason needs and values, and guide the district to make the best decisions for our students, families, and the community. Excellence in academics and extra-curriculars should be driven by a desire to best prepare our children for their future -- in school or in the workforce. Mason values kindness, caring, consideration, and respect for every student and every family. Establishing and enforcing exceptional standards of behavior and respect for all students, parents, and staff is essential to improving educational outcomes and forming strong and confident young adults.
Brandon Leffew Party: Non-Partisan	A: I have been a Special Education Paraprofessional and Substitute teacher for the past five school years. I am also the proud parent of an eleventh grader with Mason Public Schools.	A: For the most part, we have a tight-knit community of students who are excelling in their academics and are looking to their lives after they graduate. I know many parents are active with School activities and support the School District as a whole.	A: I want to ensure that the voices of the students as well as the parents are heard. I want them to know that as an educator myself, I will listen to their concerns and do my best to help resolve them. Staff, Parents and students in particular need to have faith in their School Board, as well as those on the Board.

I have actively advocated for my own son's IEP & have helped other parents understand the importance of being an active partner in their child's education. I strive to maintain positive & productive relationships with teachers & administrators and bring a collaborative attitude to all situations. My husband & I are small business owners, property owners, & have been rooted in the Williamston community for quite some time. Seeing a need to address the problem of food insecurity that many of our district's students face, we founded the Weekend Survival Kids food program that helped provide over 700,000 meals to children in Williamston & surrounding communities for over 12 years. I care about kids & their futures & am committed to working together with others to help provide opportunities for them as they grow	A: Williamston has attracted and retained very gifted and talented educators and has been able to foster excellent administrative and community support within the district. Our community understands the need to support the district's strategic plans financially and physically, and through the efforts of a variety of volunteers and service organizations (like Rotary, Kiwanis, PTA, Booster Clubs, etc.), the district encourages its community members to actively provide many advantages to our students. Our district's leadership is transparent and inclusive, and together with the community can reach goals that positively impact our students.	A: With our newly passed bond proposal, I am excited to support the district's leadership and the Board in implementing the changes that will be forthcoming. It is an exciting time in Williamston as we make progress in support of our kids' futures. I also hope to be an advocate for students needing mental health resources and individualized educational plans and will continue to show support for our resource room staff and be the voice for parents whose students require accommodations in and outside of the classroom.
